Spring heralds the start of wonderful year

AS we move into April, anticipation is building for the new season at Wellingborough Golf Club.

Of course, as always, plenty of you have already been in action in competitions, including the juniors who took part in the inaugural nine-hole Junior Sunday Stableford on March 10th.

This event gives youngsters without handicaps and those with handicaps of over 28 (boys) and over 36 (girls), an opportunity to take part in competitions. I'm pleased to report there was a good turnout of boys and girls.

It forms part of our Junior Order of Merit, and we had our second competition a fortnight later.

I won't reveal the winners, because all that information is on page 7, but what I will say is that one young lady made a doubly impressive start to the year!

Talking about double-winning ladies, congratulations to Meghan MacLaren on another success on the Ladies European Tour as she triumphed down under for the second year in a row.

Retaining a title is never easy, something our men's Hollingsworth team may face this season, but if they're going to do it, then at least they will look the part in their new outfits - it made them look like Olympians!!

Full details of their emphatic win against Northampton and the narrow defeat at Kingsthorpe, when all the team put in a gallant effort, are in this magazine. Good work guys, keep it up.

Back at the Club, I was fortunate enough to be invited to present the prizes for the Spring Senior Open on March 21st - it was a well-attended event with a total of 99 seniors taking part.

Thanks to Pat Wilson, Rachel Owen, Christine Kelly and David Waite for making this a very successful day. The Autumn Event is nearly full too.

I'm pleased to report, playing off mats on the fairways over the last few months did speed up course recovery, so thank you to everyone for following the 'recommendation' to use them!

The Captain's Away Day at The Woburn Golf Club is drawing closer, and I'm sure we will have a fantastic day on Friday, April 5th.

Please enjoy your golf and be lucky - stay away from the Captain's Bunker and Out of Bounds on the 18th Hole.

Summers hits hot streak in Winter Seniors Lonsdale

BRIAN Summers moved to the top of the 2019 Seniors Lonsdale Order of Merit after taking the plaudits in the second round with an excellent tally of 42 points.

The 13-handicapper was in devastating form through the opening 13 holes as he carded one gross birdie, 10 pars and just two bogeys, before holding his nerve over the closing few holes.

Phil Elwick's 39 points were enough to secure the runners-up position as he now sits four points behind Summers in the overall table on 75. David Birkett, who finished joint third with Robin Everard in round two, lies third in the standings on 73 points.

Wednesday, April 3rd is the date for the third round of the Seniors Lonsdale.

Tap-Ins

GOLFERS no longer need to use a fairway mat on the course. If you have one in your golf bag, please return it to the bucket in the shoe cleaning area. Many thanks to everybody who used a mat - it has made a positive difference to the state of the fairways.

BIRDIES on two of the last three holes helped Elliot West snatch top spot in the March Sunday Stableford as he fired a winning tally of 42 points. Nick Ward was runner-up on 40.

MEGHAN MacLaren backed up her victory in the Women's New South Wales Open by finishing eighth in the South Africa Women's Open the following week.

THE Ladies Spring Bridge Drive attracted 76 participants, whose wonderful efforts doubled the money raised for the Captain's charities to an amazing £1200. A hefty contribution from Barclays Bank, by way of Matched Fundraising, is also still to be added. Thanks to all, who helped.

CHRIS Smith never looked back after paring the opening three holes in the March Medal as the 12-handicapper secured a one shot victory with a round of net 69.

RYAN Evans used the fourth event on the MENA Tour as a good warm up for his season on the European Challenge Tour as he finished tied sixth in the Dubai Open.

HARROWDEN Hall will be the venue for the first of six 'team building' days this year for the Northamptonshire County Boys Under-18s squad on Monday, April 8th

WELLINGBOROUGH members are expected to be well represented in the opening NGL Junior Order of Merit event of the year as Collingtree Park hosts a Junior Open on Friday, April 19th.

WITH pages to fill in the Wellingborough Club Magazine, there are plenty of opportunities to advertise during the year. Please contact the Club Office to get your message across to the members and visitors in 2019.

Back-to-back victories for brilliant Barby

OLIVIA Barby made the ideal start to the 2019 Wellingborough Junior Order of Merit as she earned wins in both the nine-hole competitions held at the Club in March.

In the first competition on March 10th, an excellent score of 20 points proved enough for her to grab top spot ahead of joint runners-up Harris Chacksfield and Jack Meakin (both 16).

With two competitions scheduled to run each month until the end of June, the 2018 NGL Junior Order of Merit Girls Nine-hole champion was even more impressive two weeks later as she posted a magnificent winning tally of 25 points.

Three points behind in second place was Theo Brown, who birdied the sixth and eighth hole in a brilliant one-under-par gross score, while Archie Filios was third on 18.

Junior organiser Nigel Grimmitt said: "All the stableford competitions are open to junior golfers with a handicap. They can book online.

"Those without a handicap are also welcome to play, with the added bonus that their score can go towards gaining a club handicap.

"The next nine-hole competition takes place on Sunday, April 18th. Please turn up at the clubhouse at 2.30pm for the ball draw and tee time."

Keen to help next generation by using popular Junior Golf Passport

WHETHER a player wants to take up playing golf for the first time or become an elite performer, Wellingborough Golf Club aim to provide a platform to enable young people to start their golfing journey here.

The Club's Junior Committee are currently exploring the option of the Golf Foundation's Junior Golf Passport.

Junior organiser Nigel Grimmitt said: "Once implemented at the club, their national structured learning programme will give youngsters the opportunity to learn the game under the expert supervision of our PGA Professional golf coach James Whittlemore.

"The Golf Passport has proved to be a popular programme with parents at many other clubs and with its implementation here at Wellingborough we aim to attract more families along to our club.

"We have also implemented English Golf's Box of Tricks focussing on Junior social skills development and fun golf activities to retain and improve golf club membership."

Charities benefit from well-run Spring Bridge Drive

LADIES Captain Sally McKeown said: "Well, we are finally into Spring! The Winter has not been too bad, but it is nice to be thinking of playing in better weather. We have much to look forward to.

"I have the first of my 'big days' on Tuesday, April 16th - Spring Meeting. It will be nice to see as many Social Members as possible joining us for the evening meal.

"If you are able to attend, please sign up on the list in the corridor and indicate your menu choices.

"Annie, Gill and Brenda ran the Spring Bridge Drive recently. Can I extend my sincere thanks for the time and effort you put into running the Bridge Drives. I am sure that both my charity, and George's will be very happy with the result.

"Thanks must be made also to all of those who helped to alleviate an unfortunate incident during the day, when one of the players fell. We hope the unlucky lady is feeling better now.

"April sees the start of the friendly matches, and other team matches, so good luck to all who play in any of the teams, near or far.

"My best wishes also go out to any of the players who are entering local, county or international competitions. Please let us know of any successes, in order that they may be enjoyed by all.

"One of those success stories is Meghan MacLaren, who we were all delighted to see win her second Ladies European Tour event as she retained her New South Wales title down in Australia.

"Everyone is so proud to see her represent Wellingborough Golf Club with such distinction, and we hope this continues. Well done, Meg. Please turn over for a full interview with our champion golfer."

Winner on the Ladies European Tour - TWICE!

WELLINGBOROUGH Golf Club professional Meghan MacLaren recorded her second victory on the Ladies European Tour as she retained her Women's New South Wales Open in Australia last month. After returning to the UK, our Meg nipped down to Harrowden Hall to meet up with Wellingborough Golf Club Magazine to chat about her latest success.

How did it feel to win the Women's New South Wales Open again?

Meghan MacLaren: It was pretty amazing. It's one of those things that doesn't quite sink in, whilst it's happening. The reason I was so proud is that you can play well without winning - people can go five, ten year spells without winning. There are so many moments that happen when you are in contention, so to know that I'd played well and won twice is the most satisfying part of it.

What was your approach as defending champ?

I had the same situation as an amateur, with the British Strokeplay Championships. I was not trying to defend anything because the way I won last year wasn't through trying to defend anything, I just went out and did my own thing - I tried to approach it that way. There were more people talking to me, and asking questions, but that's a nice thing because they want to know what you think, how the course is, how your game is, so it elevates you a little bit. It helped that it wasn't the same course but it was completely different.

Leading going into the final round, how did you feel?

I'd been playing so well going into the event, and into the final round, so it's hard not to think that it's going to be comfortable. Even though I know how hard golf is, you hope that it will carry on like that. But it didn't. Conditions were a lot tougher on the final day, which made it harder for me to carry on the way I had all week.

What happened in the last round?

It wasn't quite going to plan. There was a moment on the front nine when I could have gone three ahead of the two girls I was playing with, it felt like that could have been a nail in their coffin. But I missed a short putt, and then made bogey on the next, and you could see that it spurred on the others - a lot of it is psychological in golf.

How did the game plan change?

Heading into the back nine, I was clinging on a bit. I wasn't playing badly, but I kept having to make up-and-downs to make par, rather than having comfortable birdie chances. I made bogey on 13, when one of the girls made birdie, so three of us were tied for the lead. I didn't know what was going on with the other groups. I made a couple of really good pars as conditions were getting harder, and I told myself 'I've got enough to out grind the other two'. I was through the toughest part and felt as long as I could find a way of getting pars, I would be fine. But I didn't know what was happening in front.

Did you see any scoreboards?

There was one scoreboard coming around, but it wasn't always there. Because we'd gone backwards, if someone had played well, there's every chance they could be in the lead.

What happened on the 16th tee?

I was one up on the other two when I walked to the 16th tee but I needed to know what was going on because I thought I was in the lead, but I might not be. I saw a friend, who said another girl had just eagled the 16th to go two shots clear of me.

How did that affect your mind set?

I don't know if that focussed me a little more. I knew I still had three holes to go, so I didn't have to force anything.

After finding the 16th fairway, what did you do?

I had quite a long time to wait before hitting my second - it wasn't an easy shot, but I'd had a similar one the day before, a big cut with a three wood around the trees. Because it was such a hard shot, it made me focus more. I was thrilled when I hit it but I couldn't see the green. My caddie saw it come down and he said it was fine. When I got up there, it was six feet away!

How proud were you of that shot?

You'd like to think that you'd play the same shot whatever the situation, but I'd been waiting the whole round for something to happen. I produced when I really needed it. To make eagle was a bonus.

Did you think you were leading then?

I was quite happy to have a tap-in par on 17. I then saw a scoreboard, and my name was at the top of the leaderboard, but I wasn't sure if it had been updated. I saw my friend, who confirmed that the other girl had double bogeyed the 18th.

How did you feel?

Within half an hour, I'd gone from 'this has maybe gone' to 'as long as I don't do anything stupid on 18, it's mine'. But the tee shot on the 18th was really horrible.

How did you play the last hole?

I hit it a bit right, but it was fine. It was a surreal moment - you feel as if it as an out-of-body experience watching yourself. Once I hit my approach shot to 12 feet onto the green, I knew it was mine. It wasn't an easy putt, but I knew I wasn't going to do anything crazy. I was delighted when the birdie putt dropped (pictured).

How pleasing was it to finish in the top 10 in South Africa the next week?

It was 42 hours travelling straight from Australia to South Africa. I had to pull out of the Pro-Am because I felt horrendous, so I basically played the first round blind. I could have gone home, but there was an additional motivation to see if I could get into contention again when I wasn't feeling great. So that spurred me on. I didn't play well all week, but to get myself into position again, made me learn something completely different but equally as positive as the week before.

What does this mean for the rest of your season?

I'm now in the British Open and the Evian. I will try and qualify for the US Open.

And the Solheim Cup, is that a target?

I'm not 100% sure how to get into the Solheim Cup team - I just know I need to play well. There is a Solheim Cup points total, and also the World Rankings, and there are a lot of strong Europeans in there. I have the bonus of knowing that I played well at Gleneagles in the 2018 European Championships. So I hope to get in automatically, or earn a Captain's pick. But, yes, it's a target.

Solid start to Hollingsworth title defence

WELLINGBOROUGH have enjoyed a proud record in NGL team competitions in recent years as the men's, ladies and seniors have claimed the plaudits in county league tournaments. With the 2019 campaign now underway, this is how our teams have started the season.

NGL Hollingsworth Trophy - Group D

Wellingborough 4
Northampton 1

Kingsthorpe 3
Wellingborough 2

REIGNING champions Wellingborough had few problems in their opening match of the year as they defeated Northampton with ease.

Martin Dalton and Tim Veal set the tone with a 4&3 win, Richard Brown and Elliot Morgan doubled the home lead on the 18th hole, before Dominic Holden and Adam Sherlock (2&1) confirmed the victory.

Although Northampton pulled one back, they couldn't prevent Wellingborough recording their fourth successive 4-1 win in this competition as Mark Davis and Jon Harris (4&3) cantered home in the last game.

WELLINGBOROUGH remain top of the Group D table despite suffering their first Hollingsworth defeat since last May.

With all of the five ties reaching the 17th hole at least, the opening game went against the visitors 2&1, before Tim Veal and Hollingsworth debutante Neil Redding (pictured left) lost down the last.

Although Kingsthorpe made sure of the win thanks to a win on the second extra hole, Wellingborough kept going.

In a tight group when points difference could prove crucial in securing a place in the semi-finals, the defending champions grabbed a couple of late wins.

Mark Davis and Duncan Felce (2&1) won game four for Wellingborough, before Jon Harris and Dominic Holden took the final point on the 18th hole.

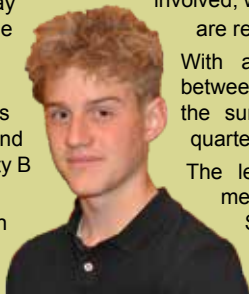

With Wellingborough hosting Rushden in their third match of the campaign on April 27th, team captain Adam Sherlock is likely to return after missing the Kingsthorpe match due to the birth of his son.

NGL Junior League

WELLINGBOROUGH will need to play one more game than last year in the NGL Junior League after being drawn in a three-team group.

Led by Junior Captain Michael Hinds (pictured), the Club will face home and away matches against Northants County B and Collingtree Park in Group D.

In the other three groups, both Peterborough Milton and Northampton have three teams.

Kettering have two sides, County's A team are involved, while Overstone Park and Rushden are represented in the 2019 tournament.

With all group matches taking place between the Easter break and the end of the summer holidays, Wellingborough's quartet of fixtures will be confirmed asap.

The leading team in each group will meet in the Semi-finals on Saturday, September 14th, with the Junior League Final scheduled for a fortnight later at a neutral venue.

Full Set with... David Clifford

IN the latest of a new series of Q&A features with various members of the Club staff over the coming months, Wellingborough Golf Club Magazine chatted with the man who has been the model professional, quite literally, at Harrowden Hall, since he first joined the Club back in 1983.

D

What is your full job title?

Wellingborough Golf Club Head Professional.

R

Family status?

Living with partner Vikki. No kids.

3

What would you change about yourself?

A bit more hair on top would be nice.

4

What is your golf handicap?

N/A. I turned professional after just two years of playing, with a handicap of four.

5

What is your guilty pleasure?

Nottingham Forest football fan.

6

What has been the highlight of your career so far?

Too many to mention - there are lots of things.

7

What has been the best advice you have ever been given?

Stop watching Forest play.

8

If you could go anywhere right now, where would it be?

Barbados.

9

If you won the lottery, what is the first thing you would do?

Go to Barbados!... and not come back!

P

What is the best part of your job?

Dealing with the people, particularly with the members, on a day-to-day basis.

W

What did you want to be when you were a child?

I always wanted to be a footballer. Golf didn't come into my life until I was 16.

L

What is your favourite film?

Blue Brothers.

S

What do you do in your spare time?

Gardening. Can I get away with saying that?

P

What is the daftest work-related question you have ever been asked?

On more than one occasion... Is the course closed? Yes. So, is the competition still on?!
